

January 8, 2020

Ergotron Hires Dell EMC Executive to Lead Americas Business

David Miketinac brings deep industry expertise to lead Ergotron's business in North America and Latin America

Ergotron, a global movement company, received its fourth Attendees' Choice Award at this year's event. Ergotron, a global movement company that builds environments that help people thrive, announced today that David Miketinac has joined the company as executive vice president, Americas. Miketinac spent 25 years at Dell EMC in a variety of senior leadership roles, most recently serving as vice president, North American distribution.

"David is the ideal leader for our Americas business," said Chad Severson, chief executive officer at Ergotron. "He has deep IT channel experience and understands how to lead successful teams. He's skilled in strategy development and has been responsible for significant business growth in the U.S. and Canada. Paired with his passion for customers, employees and partners, his leadership will be indispensable in helping us to achieve our vision to be the world leader in improving how people work, learn, play and care for others."

In his new role, Miketinac will focus on setting strategic direction and developing and implementing growth plans to expand Ergotron's business in North America and Latin America.

"I'm excited to join Ergotron because it's a strong, well-respected brand with a clear vision for the future," said Miketinac. "The company is focused on creating a world-class experience for customers and employees. Additionally, the team is active in the community and takes environmental stewardship seriously. Ergotron has all the traits of a company that I want to be part of."

During his 25-year tenure at Dell EMC, Miketinac held roles in increasing seniority, leading teams across the U.S. and Canada. In his most recent role, he led the sales team for Dell EMC's North American distribution business. He graduated from Texas State University with a Bachelor of Arts degree in political science. He also served four years as a paratrooper in the U.S. Army's 82nd Airborne Division.

About Ergotron

Ergotron, Inc. is a global company focused on improving how people work, learn, play and care for others. Using human-centered design principles and the technology of movement, Ergotron builds solutions that help people thrive in healthcare, education, contract furniture and general office environments. Its custom solutions group provides innovative product offerings to companies like Amazon, Haworth, GE Healthcare and Cisco Systems. The company has a 35-year history of innovation with more than 200 patents and a growing portfolio of award-winning brands including WorkFit®, CareFit™, LearnFit®, JUV™ and OmniMount®. Ergotron is headquartered in St. Paul, Minnesota, with a global sales and marketing presence in North America, Europe and Asia Pacific. All products are designed in the United States and produced in Ergotron's facilities in St. Paul and China.

Press Contact

Ergotron Marketing Team, pr@ergotron.com